DEFINITIONS

CONTENT MANAGEMENT SYSTEM

Content Management Systems (CMS) enables our clients to login and add, edit or delete content from their website without any technical assistance. This also gives them the ability to post blog content in the form of stories, ideas, definitions, clarification and opinions on their industry. That capability is what propels a website into the category of a resource site. And that is what helps Google and the other search engines justify a high page rank. Website CMS is critical to the marketing efforts of your business.

SEARCH ENGINE OPTIMIZATION (SEO)

Search engine optimization (SEO) is the process of improving the visibility of a website or a web page in search engines to help attract the “natural” or un-paid “organic” search results. Effective SEO requires changes to the HTML source code meta tags of a website.

SOCIAL MEDIA

A group of web-based applications like Facebook, LinkedIn and Twitter that allow the creation and exchange of user generated content from individuals and from businesses. This type of marketing allows for more personal interactions with existing and potential clients by pushing your blog content onto their social sites.

ORGANIC SEARCH RESULTS

Organic search results are listings on search engine results pages that appear because of their relevance to the search terms, as opposed to the paid results that appear as Sponsored Links.

PAY-PER-CLICK (PPC)

Pay-per-click (PPC) is an Internet marketing advertising model used on Google, Yahoo!, Bing and other search engine websites. PPC enables advertisers to gain top of first page position and they then charge for clicks that lead a visitor to your site. With PPC, advertisers bid on keyword phrases to gain placement on the first page, so proper campaign design is critical to creating a cost-effective solution by choosing keyword phrases that are most relevant at the best price.

SITEMAP

A sitemap is a file that resides in the root directory of a website. It summarizes all of the available pages, directories, categories and images of a website. This file helps the search engines find all of the content of a website because most search engines look for it before beginning the crawl process.

LINKS

A link or hyperlink is clickable text or an image that sends the user to another page. For example, a political map of Africa may have each country hyperlinked to an informational page about that country.

BROKEN LINK

When a link does not properly redirect a visitor to a new page, it is considered broken. Quite often these links go undetected. Undetected broken links can degrade the user experience and must be avoided.

ANALYTICS

Web analytics are tools for measuring website traffic for market research. Effective web analytics can help companies measure the results of marketing and advertising campaigns. They provide data on the number of visitors, where they are located, what search phrase they used to find you and what search engine they used to do their research. Our analytics also allow for comparisons between two time periods and much more.

ORGANIC SEARCH RESULTS

Organic search results are listings on search engine results pages that appear because of their relevance to the search terms, as opposed to the paid results that appear as Sponsored Links.

BLOGGING

Posting content is also referred to as blogging. It is content that provides helpful information to the community of the business. This usually takes the form of definitions, opinions, solutions, stories and testimonials. Search engines reward websites with high page ranks when the site is perceived as a resource to its community.

HOSTING

All websites are hosted. They exist on host computer servers throughout the world. And a common global web directory of every site helps any user get to any site simply by typing in the web address.
